

FIRE GUTS BARN IN BUSINESS DISTRICT

Building Owned by Park Hotel Damaged to Extent of $350.

Flames gutted the Park hotel barn, 17 South Bluff street, late Friday afternoon causing a loss estimated at $350. Damage to the building was caused by a fire in the Wisconsin Telephone company. Origin of the blaze is unknown although Chief Murphy believes it started from a lighted cigarette stub thrown by a workman.

When firemen reached the barn at 5 o'clock in rain and sleet and hazy conditions, they found the interior ablaze and flames spreading to the roof and through the south end. Playing trolley cars from East Milwaukee street hydrants they had the blaze under control within 10 minutes.

Nearby Buildings Damaged. Practically the entire interior was left a mass of charred wood although the building remained standing. Slight damage was done to the north-east corner of the hotel and a nearby barn owned by Paul Colvin.

A dozen telephone wires were melted and fell to the ground. The Associated Press wire was thrown out of commission and other arrangements had to be made to secure the reports today. By fast work Bell men succeeded in reestablishing normal service today. This morning, occurring just as factories were shutting down, hundreds of people crowded South Bluff street and alleys to watch the blaze.

Auto Is Rescued. The lower floor of the barn has been used as a store room by the Janesville Auto company. A car housed there was driven out undamaged. Odd pieces of furniture and books stored on the second floor were destroyed.

Carelessness in parking autos was again responsible for a delay in getting water. Chief Murphy warns motorists that in the future he will endeavor to prosecute anyone who parks his car within 10 feet of a fire hydrant. He also cautioned those who drove their cars on the street. This practice must also be stopped, he said, as it damages the hose. In appreciation of the work done by firemen, the Janesville Auto company, and B. W. Brewer, manager of the Park hotel, each presented Chief Murphy with $10 to buy cigars for his men.

INDUSTRY IN HARD COAL FIELDS IS AT STANDSTILL TODAY

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 4.—The anthracite industry is at a standstill today. Early reports were that about 150 collieries are idle and that about 125,000 men are out of work. Union leaders who are opposing the strike are not fearful that they will be unable to break the lockout next week. They say the hardy, experienced men to go back over the week-end, and just previous to Labor Day but expect that if the miners' union answers favorably to the miners' telegram asking for a reopening of negotiations the workers will flock back to their places of employment about Tuesday or Wednesday.

FIRE ENDANGERS BROOKLYN STRIKERS

New York, Sept. 4.—Conflicting claims regarding Brooklyn's transit tie-up were made today by officials of the Brooklyn Rapid transit company and its striking employees. Two hundred strike breakers sleeping in the Ridgewood depot of the B. R. T., were imperiled early today by fire of supposedly incendiary origin, which entailed an estimated loss of $10,000.

While Receiver Lindley M. Garrison, who yesterday issued an ultimatum that retention of security by the strikers would depend upon their return to work before next Wednesday, declared more than 800 had to earn work, the attorney for the union claimed the strikers' forces were intact. Traffic on the subway, elevated and surface lines throughout Brooklyn continued to improve.

PLAN IMPROVEMENTS AT WOOLWORTH STORE

Installation of a boiler and heating plant is contemplated by the Woolworth company at its West Milwaukee store. A rest room for girl employees will be fitted up in a building to the rear of the store. A permit for the work, estimated at $1,500, has been issued by Building Inspector F. J. Blair.

Other permits: O. A. Palmer, remodeling, $400, 100 North Terrace; Fred Yungst, heating equipment, 633 North Washington; Thomas Radigan, heating, 408 South Washington; and W. C. O'Brien, heating, 418 South Washington.

Mr. Blair calls attention of those who have installed, or plan to install, new furnaces in old houses, that they must secure permits. One dollar is the fee.

The Blue Moon

A TALE OF THE FLATWOODS.

"You might show your—friend the check." The banker stole a glance at Louie Solomon peering over the top of the door. The door was closed. "No," he continued, "there's a better—sister, he was about to say, but didn't—way than that. Why not deposit the check and take out a draft?"

"What's that?" The old banker reached his fingers up through his hair and studied the man before him. Sitting down at his desk, he wrote rapidly for a moment.

"This is a draft," he said, handing over the slip he had been writing on. "It is as good as gold anywhere, at any bank, and it is the only thing that I suggest that you afterward bring it back to the bank and deposit it. I will then give you a check book and show you how to use it."

The Pearlhunter read the paper over with curious interest, but it was the big, ornate envelope that the banker gave him for the purpose, and buttoned it away in an inside pocket of his blouse.

"The little Jew back in the plush case, put the case in his pocket, and pinned up the pocket."

"Himself," he murmured, turning away from the table. "Pearl tishers is all crazy. I'd give it to you a thousand more."

"I got my price." The little Jew more as anybody got it yet from Louie Solomon.

He chuckled all the way to the door. A small crowd of people gathered outside. He knew how news leaks out in a small town. Not a man but knew how much the pearl had brought. One of the crowd, a lady, overheard him, slipped up to the Pearlhunter.

"You got it, didn't you?" The Pearlhunter was too slow, and the little Jew answered for him. "Course he got it. What chance a poor devil pearl buyer got mit d' whole town against him?"

"That statement, or one like it, was what the crowd had been waiting for. The tension was over. The flapping and selling of the famous pearl were the most valuable pearl ever 'listed' along the Wabash, was now history—Flatwoods history. The crowd dispersed, chuckling and cheering in the old and yelled a lusty cheer, in which the crowd joined. One would have thought that each man there had sold a Blue Moon—

The Pearlhunter felt a good deal as the crowd seemed to feel—a loosening of the tension. For that matter, the fat little Jew seemed to feel something of the same relief. Caught up in the crowd, both buyer and seller were swept across the road and into the expectant door of the Mid Hien.

The Pearlhunter had just twenty-five dollars and twenty-seven cents in his pocket. He had counted it that morning while waiting for Louie Solomon to come. It was the last cent after payment of his brother's funeral expense. He threw a pocket-worn twenty-dollar bill on the bar and motioned to the crowd.

"Take it, go, whisky," he said. "No squire goes this round."

He couldn't have made a better speech for the occasion. The crowd cheered. The little Jew said something, but it couldn't be heard. The bartender set up a long row of glasses. The river men gazed at the little Jew.

Each man picked up a glass and stood waiting until every other man was served. The little Jew was cupied to notice it, but the Pearlhunter's knees were fairly shaking under him; his face set and pale. He was about to do the last great thing he had ever done in his life, even harder than mentioning money to the Wild Rose. He picked up his glass; set it down—pushed it back.

"Water for mine!" To a man, the crowd whirled and stared. Louie Solomon swore.

"Not iss," he said. "You make it foolishness."

"No," was the slow answer. "I'm off this for keeps."

"H—!" growled the one-eyed fisherman. "Since when did you quit?"

"Yesterday—about sundown." He raised his glass and clinked with Louie Solomon—the upstart of the Flatwoods spring—and drank the celebration of his great day in a glass of water. The others were too busy just then, or cared too little, to press the point.

Our Dogs

THE POINTER
Flora Merrill

Many dogs are just pets, but some of us earn a place in life and among the workers.

Our noses are alert; we are quivering with excitement, and we are in a hurry to get to the point. The instant we catch a whiff of the bird we are off. Sometimes it is the wind, which brings us the scent, and we fly like a hawk through the field. We fairly skin the ground. In our haste, we frequently sniff the grass as they hide in the grass or brush.

This instant we discover their whereabouts, we point, which means that we stand like statues with our noses in the direction of the hiding birds. By this act of pointing, which gives us our names, we warn the men that game is just ahead. As the birds rise in fright and dash to the trees, the lovers of sport do not shoot until the birds are well in the air.

We Pointers are an ancient race of dogs originally from Spain. We have been an especial favorite with the Englishman, and he has improved and trained us until we are the most perfect of hunting dogs. Of course it is the thoroughbred and carefully "broken in" Pointer which makes the best shooting companion.

One sensitive nose and natural love for the sport are inherited from many generations of hunting dogs. Even mongrels, with just a dash of Pointer blood, will frequently sniff the air and point in a noble, ignorant fashion. These of us, however, who inherit the qualities of our ancestors and attempt to win real fame and distinction among sportsmen.

In that way, nothing would be lost or mislaid and it would not be necessary to open more than one box, at any time, to find a given article.

This being the last Thursday of the camp was given that it should be devoted to camp packing. And it was a wonderful thing to see how quickly a whole summer camp could be dismantled and put in order when every detail had been worked out in advance, as for an army.

At 9 o'clock in the morning, everything was in full swing, by noon everything was dismantled, while a score of the fellows were at work making and repairing boxes, and by six o'clock in the evening, everything belonging to the camp except what would be needed for the following morning's breakfast was stowed away.

Marion shrugged her thin, little shoulders. "Well," she said, "if your wife doesn't mind it, I'm sure I don't."

The Accused—Cause I'm a proud man, judge, an' I make it a rule to pay for everything I eat.

"What became of that young man who was paying so much attention to you?"

"I don't know. I let him walk to the grocery store one afternoon with me, and after he saw how much we had to pay for things to eat he just quit coming to see me."

A Scotchman, on his first visit to London, had been warned by his friends to be careful when buying anything, and always to count his money. After making his first purchase he stood counting his change so many times that the shopkeeper, thinking he might have made a mistake, said to him:

"Well, Jack, and is your change all right?"

"Aye," replied Jack slowly, once again counting it, "but only just."

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: If a couple separated, can the woman take the child away from her husband if he is as fit as he is? She went with them during their married life.

Do you think he should take care of her evenings while the sisters go for the evening? Give me your opinion, please.

A. B. C.

The law usually gives a child to its mother. If, however, her conduct during marriage would indicate that she would not be the right kind of mother for the child, some other person may be appointed guardian of the child. Since nothing is said in your letter as to whether the father nor the mother were faithful to their marriage, the child was given to the father's sisters.

who are probably of good character. Doubtless they do not expect the man to stay long and take care of the little one. The child is their charge and they enjoy caring for it.

"Mrs. L. T. D." You and your young husband certainly need advice which I cannot give you in my column. Go together to a physician and ask him to tell you things which will help you. At thirteen years of age you are too young.

"Leonora": Since your parents do not object to your going with the young man, it will be all right to do so. Always remember that a girl cannot be too cautious in choosing her friends. In regard to your work, you are quite right in asking for bigger wages.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl fifteen years old and considered very good looking. I work all the time and my father never lets me go any place to enjoy myself. I never even go out with the other girls. I have a boy friend who calls to see me on Sunday afternoons, but I never go. Any place with him although he wants me to. I am in love with him and think he is with me. I have never caught him in a falsehood and he has never broken a date with me. He and I are going to get married soon, but I know my father will never give his consent. Do you think it would be wrong to run away? He is only twenty years old.

FOOLISH BLUE EYES.

A girl of fifteen should be allowed to go places within reason. If she is not, I don't blame her for running away to marry. It is the natural outcome of a girl's desire to be free.

Both you and the young man are too young to assume the responsibilities of married life. The cost of living is extremely high and unless the man makes a good salary you would find yourselves miserably unfit to battle with the high cost.

I believe you should use your own judgment about going places. Never willfully do anything that would compromise yourself or lead to future unhappiness. For your own interests you should choose friends with good characters. If your father forbids your leading a normal life at home I believe it would be all right for you to seek a good home elsewhere. Happiness results from right living. I cannot see why so many girls are lonesome and miserable when they have every reason to know suffering is the inevitable outcome.

Be true to yourself. Doing only what you believe to be right, and you will work out a life of happiness whether you leave home or remain there.

Cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until thick. About five minutes before serving add three-quarters cup finely grated cheese and two tablespoons tomato catsup. Ragout of Salmon—For this dish use leftover baked salmon loaf. It is inexpensive and appealing even to those who do not ordinarily care for fish. To one cup leftover salmon add one-half cup dry bread crumbs. Make a white sauce of two tablespoons butter, three tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoon salt and one and one-quarter cups milk. When thick—use double boiler—add the salmon and cook for 15 minutes. Just before serving add one-quarter cup finely grated cheese, one-quarter cup sweet pickle cut up fine and one cup sweet peppers or pimiento. This may be served in patty shells, in which case use a thinner white sauce.

LOCAL C. C. BACKS LABOR PRINCIPLES

16 Others in State Support
Declaration on Industrial Relations.

With a view toward establishing a basis on which employers and employees may work out employment problems as they come up, the Janesville Chamber of Commerce, along with 16 other commercial and industrial organizations in the state, has gone on record in support of a declaration of 12 principles of industrial relations. This action was taken by the board of directors on a report of a committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States submitted to a country-wide referendum of business associations.

The 12 principles are:
1. Any person has the right to engage in any lawful occupation and to enter individually or collectively into any lawful contract of employment, either as employer or employee.
2. The right of open-shop operation, that is, the right of employer and employee to determine the conditions of employment relations with each other, is an essential part of the individual right of contract possessed by each of the parties.
3. All men possess the equal right to associate voluntarily for the accomplishment of lawful purposes by lawful means, but such association confers no authority over, and must not deny any right of, those who do not desire to act or deal with them.
4. Associations or combinations of employers or employees, or both, must be legally responsible for their conduct and that of their agents.

5. The restriction of productive effort or of output by either employer or employee for the purpose of securing an artificial scarcity of the product or of labor is an injury to society.
6. The wage of labor must come out of the product of industry and must be earned and measured by its contribution thereto. It is the duty of the management to co-operate with the worker to secure continuous employment.

On Working Hours
7. The number of hours in the work day or week in which the human output, consistent with the health and well-being of the individual, can be maintained in a given industry should be ascertained by careful study and never should be exceeded except in case of emergency, and one day of rest should be provided.
8. Reductive economic unit, in order to secure greater leisure for the individual, should be made only with the understanding and acceptance of the fact that it involves a commensurate loss in the earning power of the workers, a limitation in output and an increase in the cost of the product.

9. Adequate means, satisfactory both to the employer and his employees, should be provided for the settlement of disputes by discussion and adjustment of employment relations.
10. When the employer and his employees do not deal individually, but by mutual consent through representatives, representatives should not be chosen or controlled by one or more outside groups or interests.

Must Develop Industry
11. The greatest measure of reward and incentive to the employer and employee and the full social value of their service must be sought in the successful conduct and full development of the industry in which they are associated.

12. While the right of government to regulate the industry and to secure that industry must be amply safeguarded, the community welfare demands that no combination to prevent or impair the operation of government or of any government function shall be permitted.

13. The power of regulation and protection exercised by the state over the corporation should properly extend to the employees insofar as may be necessary to assure unimpeded operation of public utility services.

PROBE CHARGES CUBS THREW GAME

Chicago, Sept. 4.—President William Veeck, president of the Chicago National league baseball team, today began investigation of charges made today that the Cubs had deliberately lost Tuesday's game, which Philadelphia won 3 to 0, and that professional gamblers "cleaned up" in a betting pool.

Mr. Veeck said he had no evidence to prove or disprove the charges, but would make every effort to sift the matter to the bottom.

Any impression has been that there was less gambling this year than ever before, he said.

Mr. Veeck recently hired detectives to watch gamblers at the Cubs park and more than 50 arrests resulted.

The basis of the charges in connection with Tuesday's game is that Detroit, Boston, Cincinnati, and Chicago gamblers are said to have placed $50,000 on Philadelphia, forcing the odds on Tuesday's game from 2 to 1 on the Cubs to 5 to 1 on the Phillies.

A few minutes before the game Manager Fred Mitchell ordered Alexander to pitch without cost to the Cubs to 5 to 1 on the Phillies. Mitchell is quoted as explaining that he sent in his star twirler "because I wanted him to win that game badly."

BOWLERS ASKED TO SEND APPLICATIONS

Visions of pins tumbling before the speeding ball with the music of the bowling ball set the bowling knights of the city going. Not only talk, but action on the coming big season, is taking place in strong hours below such economic unit, in order to secure greater leisure for the individual, should be made only with the understanding and acceptance of the fact that it involves a commensurate loss in the earning power of the workers, a limitation in output and an increase in the cost of the product.

Harry V. Ross, president of the City Bowling association, announced today that bowlers who should get together at once, form their teams and send their names in to M. M. Lamport, care Samson Trust Building, 111 E. Washington, City. Individuals who are not connected with a team, but who would like to be placed on a list, are asked to do the same thing.

Bowling already is in heading. Friday and Thursday nights the Arcade and West Side alleys started their business of the year.

AMERICANS MEET BRITISH ATHLETES
London, Sept. 4.—Ten competitive events and exhibitions were on the program of today's British-American athletic meet at the Queen's club, in which American Olympic team stars were matched against Britain's best. Indications, however, were that both competing nations would be somewhat handicapped by the absence of crick athletes who won high honors for them at Antwerp.

The half mile relay was won by the British team by 5 yards in an intermediate 22.8 seconds. The American team comprised F. J. Shea, U. S. N.; M. M. Kirksey, San Francisco; J. V. Sholz, University of Missouri; and Allen Wording, Philadelphia.

The 120 yard hurdles was won by Earl Thomson, representing Canada, by 1 1/2 yards in 14.4 seconds. This is a new world record. H. E. Burton, Philadelphia, was second, and Walker Smith, Chicago, third.

In the half mile relay race Kirksey of the American team pulled a muscle in the first 100 yards when he held a two-yard lead.

The British team won the two-mile relay race.

What the U.S. Rubber Company has done for the Small Car Owner

PROGRESS in any industry is marked by certain well defined steps—each step a positive contribution to the well-being or economy of part or all of the people affected by the industry.

No more positive benefit with respect to a saving in time and money has ever been conferred on the small car owners of this country than the creation of the clincher type of tire.

A product of the foresight and experience of the United States Rubber Company—the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world.

The United States Rubber Company has never assumed that because a man owned a small car he was necessarily lacking in a true appreciation of quality.

U.S. 30 x 3 1/2-inch tires are built as well and as carefully and as honestly as the largest size tires are built.

In a factory devoted exclusively to this size tire.

By workmen trained and skilled in the production of Clincher Tires.

Go to a legitimate dealer when you want a small size tire.

He knows what the United States Rubber Company has done in the interests of the small car owner. And he knows the wisdom of putting the small car owner's interests above his own.

"The will of the people shall be the Law of the land"—LA FOLLETTE

THE PROFITEERS AND PATRIOTEERS MUST GO

The Anti-Saloon League of Wisconsin has become a mere subsidized agent of Rockefeller and big business. It answers the same purpose as the notorious American Security League. The leaders are for Lenroot and Wilcox. Covertly and cunningly they whisper falsehood and slanders against honest men. They violate the spirit, if not the letter, of the corrupt practices act.

The Profiteers and Patrioteers are for Lenroot and Wilcox.

The plain people must unite to clean out these "powers that prey." Why throw away your votes on candidates who have no chance to win?

Thompson and Blaine and the whole progressive ticket are against the profiteers and patrioteers. They are fair minded men—they favor your constitutional liberties. They are for the repeal of the Espionage laws.

The fight in the primaries centers between Thompson, Blaine and the rest of the progressive Republican ticket on the one hand and Lenroot and Wilcox representing bad business, on the other hand.

United we cannot fail.

A nomination at the primary on the Republican ticket means an election in November.

Now is the time to make your choice between a government for the people and a government for the profiteers.

Sixty-five per cent of the wealth of this country is owned by two per cent of the people. This is dead wrong. But shall two per cent of the people control our politics as well? Seventy million of our people do not own their homes.

VOTE FOR THESE MEN

For Governor: JOHN J. BLAINE
For Lieutenant Governor: GEORGE F. COMINGS
For Secretary of State: ELMER S. HALL
For State Treasurer: SOLOMON LEVITAN
For Attorney General: ADOLPH KANNEBERG
For United States Senator: JAMES THOMPSON

A Vote for This Ticket Is a Vote to Sustain Bob LaFollette

Lenroot voted increased rates to railroads owned and controlled by Rockefeller, Morgan and the Wall Street gamblers amounting to fifteen hundred million dollars a year. The platform upon which Lenroot and Wilcox stand indorses this imposition on the people—a tax of $1.00 a day on each family of five. Think of the price of coal!

Will you stand for that?

If not, you must vote against these men at the primaries September 7th.

Women may vote as well as men.

Men and women! Now is the time to protest to the nation against the burdens heaped upon you. Now is your opportunity to speak with no fear of the Espionage law.

Much money is being spent to corrupt and mislead the voters. Where does it come from?

Men and women of Wisconsin! You know your rights and how to obtain them. The ballot is the only weapon you have.

VOTE September 7th, 1920, for the progressive Republican ticket. Cut out this ticket and take it with you to the polls to aid you in marking your ballot.
